Speak Now or You May Never Rest in Peace: Crafting your Legacy of Harmony

As an adult child expecting to assist your parents as they age, do you know what their wishes are? As an adult, have you planned for retirement and beyond? Have you shared your wishes with your children or heirs? Do you have a circle of trusted family, friends and professionals to support you as you age? Geriatric Care Manager Brenda Shorkend will share ways to start the conversation.

Brenda Shorkend is an independent Geriatric Care Manager, with over 25 years of experience working with seniors and their families. She has a background in Rehabilitation Psychology and is a member of the National Association of Professional Geriatric Care Managers. She has worked in a wide variety of hospital and community settings, including Huntington Hospital's Senior Care Network. Brenda has broad knowledge of local resources and services. Brenda is a strong advocate for her clients. She works with seniors and their families to tailor unique solutions for each individual that maximizes their independence and autonomy while ensuring their safety and well-being.

Protecting Mom & Dad's Money

Elder abuse is more common than you might think and it doesn't always mean physical harm.

They're easy targets especially if they depend on someone else for their care. Such abuse can be financially and emotionally devastating. Experts say it's likely to increase in challenging economic times and an aging population. Seniors might not recognize when it happens to them, or are too ashamed to speak, and the crime is largely unreported. Lieutenant Lola Abrahamian will share her expertise in keeping seniors safe.

Lt. Lola Abrahamian has been a member of the Glendale Police Department for over 13 years, Lola worked in patrol and as a Detective in the Financial Crimes and Assaults units. Lola also served as a Crisis Negotiator on the Department's Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team. Lola was assigned as Commander of the Criminal Investigations Bureau which included the Financial Crimes Detail, Burglary/Auto Theft Detail, Gang Investigations, Court Liaison and Computer Forensics Unit. Lola is very excited about working with members of the community to ensure a safe environment for all by taking a proactive stance on emerging issues

Traffic Safety

Officer Tino Saloomen will share the rules of the road, to help keep pedestrians safe, especially seniors. Learn what you can do to reduce traffic fatalities in our community.

Tino Saloomen has been with the Glendale PD since 2006. During this time, he investigated hundreds of traffic collisions, many of which involved pedestrians or bicyclists, as well as DUI drivers.

As a Community Lead Officer, his duties include working with the crime and traffic analysis unit, conducting investigations to determine the vulnerabilities leading up to the crime, traffic or quality of life issues, then developing and strategically implementing plans to help reduce the issues. He is responsible for raising public awareness on trending issues being faced by the citizens of Glendale.

His goal is to help provide education to both the pedestrians and drivers to help reduce the number of incidents and save lives.
